Amendment # (for amendments only):

Provide a brief overview of the program you plan to deliver. Refer to the instructions for a description of the requested elements of the summary. Response is limited to space provided, front side only, font size no smaller than 10 point Arial.

The Ignite Campus is requesting funds to implement a Texas Title I Priority Schools Grant, Cycle 3 and use those funds will to carry out the transformational model at the campus through Project Transformation. Project Transformation is a pilot initiative designed to accelerate improvements in student achievement, create an aligned instructional system, increase capacity among teachers to become more effective, help principals to become effective instructional leaders, create a strong district-level support system, and increase the involvement of parents and community partners. The new accountability system has placed greater demands on the Campus to prepare its students for the new rigorous curriculum and testing requirements. Through Project Transformation, the Campus will support student learning and increase academic competencies by addressing each of the Critical Success Factors (CSF) stated in the intervention model requirements. According to the data gathered through the comprehensive needs assessment process, the Campus has determined that the areas of greatest need include enhancing the current instructional delivery methods to support student learning in Texas Essential Knowledge & Skills (TEKS) curricula in core foundation subjects and STEM fields including English Language Arts, science, mathematics, and technology/computer science, increase the student attendance rates and finally create a school going culture for the highly mobile at-risk student population at the Campus. Current Campus demographics reveal a student population of 98.57% economically disadvantaged, 38.57% Limited English Proficient, and 93.4%% at-risk highly mobile. Research has shown that students come to school with a range of capacities and challenges and the importance of understanding how each student conceives knowledge (Stephen D. Brookfield, The Skillful Teacher (2006)). To this end, the campus recognizes that learning is a partnership between the teacher and the student where the student is in control of his or her success. Project Transformation will focus on building strong partnerships between teachers and students to deliver a more integrated approach to learning that meets the individual learning styles of the students, builds on the individual capacities of each student and is relevant to the technological demands of the 21st century. Project Transformation will address comprehensive instructional reform strategies that: 1) use data to identify and implement an instructional program that is research-based and vertically aligned from one grade to the next as well as aligned with state academic standards; 2) promotes the continuous use of student data that is formative, interim, and summative to inform and differentiate instruction; 3) establish systems and strategies that provide increased learning time; 4) provides innovative opportunities for family and community engagement; 5) form community partnerships to meet non-academic needs that support academic development by coordinating and aligning programs and outcomes with classroom learning; and 6) create a campus culture of operational flexibility and sustained District support that includes staffing, calendars/time, and budgeting that fully promotes a comprehensive approach to substantially improve student achievement outcomes and increase daily attendance and high school graduation rates. To Improve Academic Performance, Project Transformation will focus on establishing a school that prepares students to succeed in the 21st century. Central to this accomplishment, the campus will focus on the following key elements of 21st century learning: 1) Core Content curriculum improvements that expand the focus beyond "basic competency" that integrates life relevant project based learning aligned to the core academic content at much higher levels. 2) Learning Skills that meet the demands of the 21st century, students will learn more than core subject content by participating in project based learning that integrates certification programs with an applied internship program that will challenge students to use their knowledge and skills-by thinking critically, applying knowledge to new situations, analyzing information, comprehending new ideas, communicating, collaborating, solving problems, and making decisions. 3) Tools that will allow both teachers and students to recognize that technology is, and will continue to be, a driving force in workplaces, communities, and personal lives in the 21st century and beyond. These technology tools will emphasize the importance of incorporating information and communication into education from the elementary grades up. 4) Life Relevant Context where student experiences are relevant to their lives, connected with the world beyond the classroom, and based on authentic projects that are central to the sort of education required for learning in the information age. 5) Rigorous Content for instruction that is both rigorous and meaningful. This instruction will engage students that are prepared for college and careers with skills that help them practice higher-order thinking skills, analyze, weigh evidence, recognize bias (their own and others'), distinguish fact from opinion, work collaboratively with others, and communicate effectively. And finally, Assessment Practices that provide immediate feedback on overall student progress that measures academic as well as non-academic achievements. Essential to the attainment of the aforementioned, is the Increase Use of Quality Data to Inform Instruction. Project Transformation will provide continuous training and guidance in the use of external data and measurements tools that encourage Campus

Administrators and teaching staff to use student data systems for decision making. The competencies will include finding the relevant pieces of data in the data system or display available to them (data location), understanding the data (data comprehension), figuring out the data (data interpretation), selecting the instructional approach that addresses the situation identified through the data (instructional decision making), and finally, framing instructionally relevant questions (question the data). Leadership Effectiveness is vital to the success of transformation; therefore the Campus Administration will address leadership behaviors by focusing on self-improvement. Leadership Mentors will help the administrator with strategies and self-monitoring practices that continuously focus on the job responsibilities, staff empowerment, initiative and creating campus culture norms, values, practices and organizational systems that encourages leadership across the ranks and provides appreciation for appropriate behaviors. The use of instructional coaches will be utilized by Project Transformation to Increase the Learning Time. The instructional coaches will help teachers with bell-to-tell instruction that is rigorous, well planned and meaningful. Coaches will help teachers identify weakness in the lesson plans; provide continuous feedback to improve the time spent on the curriculum and instructional quality during that time. Additionally, the increase learning time design will target learning and achievement by enhancing the opportunities for enrichment outside of school by using an extended-time model that broadens and deepens the curriculum to address the learning needs of individual students, by incorporating opportunities that enrich students' educational experiences through mini internships alongside career-focused learning programs. Overall Campus transformation will require the Increase Parent / Community Engagement. Project Transformation will develop effective policies that promote family engagement as a strategy to achieve student success. Strategies will include a variety of innovative ideas to create pathways for families to promote the cognitive, social-emotional, and healthy development of children from cradle to career. To accomplish this, the project will recruit community partners that share the vision of in family and community engagement, which that will impact positive school improvement and student success. Family and community engagement activities will be systemic and integrated across all project goals. Specific strategies include opportunities that build relationships with families, support family well-being; support strong relationships between parents and their children; and nurturing ongoing learning and development for both parents and children. Paramount, to this objective, is to recognize that teachers and staff morale is an important factor to ensure that students receive the best possible education at all times. Teacher morale impacts directly on delivery of lessons, teacher effectiveness and leadership, student attitudes, behavior and discipline, as well as student performance. Creating a positive school climate is an added factor that will help the campus focus on providing a well-rounded educational program in which teachers and students are willing participants. Strategies that will be implemented to meet this objective include providing strong leadership, coupled with clear guidelines, expectations, consequences and ongoing support. Additionally teachers will have an opportunity provide feedback on the development of a rigorous, transparent, and equitable evaluation system, professional development opportunities and the design and implementation of the core content curriculum. Project Transformation proposes to Increase Teacher Quality to ensure that each classroom has the most effective and qualified teacher. This high quality teacher will have a positive effect on student learning and development through a combination of content mastery, command of a broad set of pedagogic skills, and communications/interpersonal skills. To meet this objective the Campus will adopt an aggressive program that integrates an instructional delivery program that improves a teacher's knowledge in one or more of the subjects they teach, increase the teacher's skill set in methods for improving student behavior, and/or learn how to teach a student population that is highly at-risk and mobile. To ensure increasing the quality of teachers at the Campus Project Transformation proposes to incorporate strategies for recruitment and retention, support through instructional coaching and mentoring, incentives, complete pay, safe surroundings, and learning communities where teachers can grow and learn collaboratively.

Schedule #13—Needs AssessmentCounty-district number or vendor ID: 108801-004

Amendment # (for amendments only):

Part 1: Process Description. A needs assessment is a systematic process for identifying and prioritizing needs, with "need" defined as the difference between current achievement and desired or required accomplishment. Describe your needs assessment process, including a description of how needs are prioritized, data sources that were reviewed and participants (including stakeholders) in the needs assessment process. Response is limited to space provided, front side only. Use Arial font, no smaller than 10 point.

As a District, Ignite Public Schools believes that all programs, strategies and initiatives must be supported by needs identified through a needs assessment process. At Ignite, the process involves the use of both objective) and subjective information to identify and rank both district and campus needs. The district and campus staff is expected to engage in activities such as the identification of goals, identification of objectives, prioritization of objectives, assessment of actual status, determination of discrepancies, and prioritization of needs through root cause analysis.

On an annual basis, Ignite begins the process with the selection of a committee where participant representation is required from all organizational departments. Once the committee has been established, the needs assessment process can begin. All committee members are encouraged to focus on the attainment of a true picture by gathering and utilizing multiple sources of data. These multiple data sources include: direct observation, questionnaires/surveys, consultation with key personnel, review of relevant reports, financial records, assessment records and interviews.

Once the committee is in place and the data sources available the assessment process begins. The initial step is analysis that is data driven and includes a through reflection of demographics, student achievement, culture and climate, staff quality, recruitment/retention, curriculum needs, technology needs and finally family and community involvement. Through this analysis, the district/campus reviews the current situation and then evaluates it against the desired outcome. This analysis leads to the identification of any gaps needed for improvement. These gaps also help the district identify its needs, its purpose and the overall objectives. The next step includes the identification of priorities and the level of importance of those priorities. District/Campus staff must examine these priorities and their level of importance within the organizational goals, funding realities and any barriers to attainment. Next the District/Campus will focus on the root cause of the problem to determine possible solutions. The final step is to target the solutions, develop strategies for improvement, identify responsible parties for implementation and establish timelines. In summary, the systematic needs assessment process at Ignite reflects the following:

1. Perform a "gap" analysis to identify the current status and compare to the described outcome
2. Identify priorities and level of importance
3. Identify the root causes of problems and/or opportunities
4. Identify possible solutions
5. Compare the consequences if the program is or is not implemented
6. Generate and communicate your recommendations for feedback
7. Develop an organizational plan that clearly identifies the strategies to address the identified needs

Schedule #13—Needs Assessment (cont.)County-district number or vendor ID: 108801-004

Amendment # (for amendments only):

Part 2: Alignment with Grant Goals and Objectives. List your top five needs, in rank order of assigned priority. Describe how those needs would be effectively addressed by implementation of this grant program. Response is limited to space provided, front side only. Use Arial font, no smaller than 10 point.

#	Identified Need	How Implemented Grant Program Would Address
1.	The Campus needs to enhance the current instructional delivery methods to support student learning in Texas Essential Knowledge & Skills (TEKS) curricula in core foundation subjects and STEM fields including English Language Arts, science, mathematics, and technology/computer science.	Student Academic Performance- integrate the curriculum with learning skills designed to meet the demands of the 21st century. Students will participate in project based learning that integrates certification programs with an applied internship program that challenges the use knowledge and skills-by thinking critically, applying knowledge to new situations, analyzing information, comprehending new ideas, communicating, collaborating, solving problems, and making decisions
2.	Increase the proficiency level of English Language learners.	Student Academic Performance- The integration of technology in the classroom will impact the curriculum. This impact will emphasize the integration of higher order thinking skills, authentic tasks, and mixed-ability groupings. Instead of students practicing discrete, isolated skills (such as spelling and punctuation done on worksheets), the curriculum would stress composition, comprehension, and applications of skills.
3.	Improve graduation rates by address daily attendance and dropout rates of the high school students enrolled at the Campus.	Real World Experience- Certification Programs along with internships and/or business incubator models will help the student engaged in learning. Ignite Public Schools has a small central office administration and therefore its District's Leadership Team is inclusive of Program/Project Coordinators and Campus Administrators. This District Leadership Team meets on a monthly basis to discuss ongoing programs, projects and or strategies that are part of the District initiatives. This ongoing evaluation process helps the District identify problems in program implementation and if any strategies need to be updated or changed. The Ignite District Leadership Team solicits reports and other data to help determine overall student impact.

When the District Leadership Team determines that a specific program, project or strategy needs adjustments and or changes, the specific project coordinator will be asked to adjust the implementation plan. The changes are reviewed and discussed by the Leadership Team and then disseminated to all relevant stakeholders. The project coordinator will meet with individual campus administrators and discuss changes and adjustments. The campus administrator will meet with all of his campus staff to communicate the changes or adjustments to any district initiative. At this point the teaching staff will discuss any additional staff development needs needed, if the changes require, then proceed to implement in the classrooms if necessary. All parental notifications are disseminated to parents during the monthly parent/teacher meetings and also by utilizing the Parent Newsletter.

Feedback and continuous improvement for the Texas Title1 Priority Schools Grant will include the aforementioned, additional monitoring of the plan will include the daily supervision of the TTIPS Project Coordinator and the DCSI. This daily supervision and monitoring will focus on the strategies and activities specified in Project Transformation and inclusive of the Critical Success Factors: 1) Improve Academic Performance, including (but not limited to) Reading/ELA and Math; 2) Increase the Use of Quality Data to Drive Instruction; 3) Increase Leadership Effectiveness; 4) Increase Learning Time; 5) Increase Parent/Community Involvement; 6) Improve School Climate; and 7) Increase Teacher Quality. At Ignite, we are committed to preparing our students to succeed and excel in elementary, junior high, high school, and college. To accomplish this, the Campus participates in several local and statewide initiatives designed to bring resources directly into our district and ultimately benefit our students. The Campus is currently identified as a Priority School and receiving Title I, 1003(a) Priority and Focus support. This program is designed to address the Critical Success Factors: 1) Improve Academic Performance, including (but not limited to) Reading/ELA and Math; 2) Increase the Use of Quality Data to Drive Instruction; 3) Increase Leadership Effectiveness; 4) Increase Learning Time; 5) Increase Parent/Community Involvement; 6) Improve School Climate; and 7) Increase Teacher Quality.

Throughout the TTIPS Cycle 3 project period, the campus will coordinate and leverage funds and resources of related initiatives, such as Title I, 1003 Priority and Focus Grant as well as current state funding (Title I Part A and Title II Part A funds for staff development) to maximize all resources available to support innovative school transformation throughout the Campus.

The staff associated with the TTIPS Cycle 3 will work collaboratively with the Ignite District Leadership Team in an effort to maximize program effectiveness. This collaboration will ensure all project participants remain committed to the project and its success. The District will require that a written sustainability plan be developed by the TTIPS Cycle 3 Program Coordinator and the support staff associated with the project. This sustainability plan will provide a road map to support the ongoing management of the project beyond the funding cycle. In addition to ongoing management, the sustainability plan will help identify resources necessary to sustain the project, encourage the development of partnerships and also showcase to other potential funders.

Ongoing sustainability efforts will focus on the development of untapped funding sources as well as evaluations to determine if program needs have changed over the duration of the project and how they might change in the future. Continuous program sustainability will also depend on the constant recruitment of key partners, aspects of the program the Campus would like to sustain, track performance measures, and prioritize actions and activities to ensure that campus transformation is an ongoing initiative that has the support from the Campus, the District and the community.
